Dear Sir:

As part of our program to emphasize counterinsurgency operations, guest lecturers are being invited to speak at the U. S. Army Engineer School, Fort Belvoir, Virginia.

STATINTL

Colonel Boucher, Chief of Collection Division, ACSI, indicated that CIA was doing work in this field and had highly qualified speakers. [REDACTED] of your office, later contacted a member of my staff confirming this and suggested a 50 minute presentation on CIA's Role in Counterinsurgency.

If the services of one of your men are available, we would like to invite him to address our student officers on this vital area. Subject to your approval, 1100 - 1200, 31 July 1962, is proposed as an appropriate time for a presentation.

Major Milton J. Morgan, Department of Military Art, U. S. Army Engineer School, telephone EDgewater 9-5500, extension 28236, is prepared to offer his assistance with training aids, transportation, or with any other administrative support that may be required.

Sincerely yours,
